FROM THE PRESIDENT

From book sales to special projects

Hello, happy spring and soon to be summertime. It is a busy time at our Modesto Library.

Be sure to note the dates of two major fundraising events: The Friends of the Modesto Library Used Book Sale May 7 and the Scholastic Children's New 50% off Book Sale May 17, 18, 19 and 21 (good for birthday and holiday gifts). All of the money raised at the Used Book Sale goes toward library projects serving children and adults.

Also, the campaign to Save Stanislaus Libraries has just begun. This pertains to the 1/8th of one percent sales tax renewal in 2017. This sales tax funds 88 percent of the Stanislaus County Library (all thirteen branches) budget. The public library is vital to this community. Without this tax the public libraries in Stanislaus County would close. The campaign committee can be contacted at (209) 353-2217 or PO Box 4204, Modesto, CA 95352 for more information.

My second term as president of the Friends of the Modesto Library comes to a close at the end of June. Maree Hawkins and Denise Nordell, seasoned and experienced Stanislaus County Library volunteers, will share the role of president in the coming year.

My presidency has been richly rewarding learning the significant value and importance of the Friends group to the Modesto Library. Our officers and directors are outstanding. The team also includes chairmen for the book sales new and used, grant application writing, special events, newsletter team, webmaster, and our Friends of the Modesto Library Little Shop's manager and volunteers.

Congratulations to Kristine Ezovski, The Little Shop manager, on her recent Shining Star Award.

These industrious people give countless hours of their time and talents to the good of our Modesto Library. Thank you all!

— Christine Brereton
President, Friends of the Modesto Library

BOOK 'EM! Buy 'em! Read 'em!

The annual Used Book Sale is Saturday, May 7, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. with bargains galore for every age: fiction, biographies, mysteries, nonfiction, children's books, history and more! All for $1.00 for hardbacks and 50 cents for paperbacks.

Used Book Sales have brought in $20,000 in the last seven years! All because Clare

Clare Noonan Noonan said "Yes," when asked to organize one. She put together a great sorting team, found donated storage space thanks to Beard Land Improvement Company, and even stacked boxes of books in her home the first year!

2X
Scholastic Book Sale
FOML Used Book Sale

The Used Book Sale has consistently generated about 1/3 of the annual income for the Friends of the Modesto Library. Funds that meant more books for the library, more programs, and sometimes new furniture, paint or equipment.

So, a big Thanks! to Clare. But also a big Thanks! to you for donating books, coming to shop and helping get the word out about the sales. Remember. May 7. Send your friends, neighbors, colleagues and family to find their own treasures. Happy hunting!

And, if you're wondering where FOML gets all those new books for Día (Page 5), well, to paraphrase an old ad: "We earned them." For the last 10 years FOML has hosted a 1/2 Off New Books for Kids Sale of new books from Scholastic. At those sales, Friends volunteers are paid in books for staffing the sale. Those books make up the core of the gifts at Día. The sale this year is May 17, 18, 19 and 21.

The sale is a wonderful source for high quality, low cost books for children and teens. Teachers, parents, grandpa/pas, aunties/uncles, neighbors, youth leaders and especially, service clubs find bargains for the young and the young at heart in their lives.

This is AWESOME!

AWE Early Literacy Stations, designed specifically for children ages 2-8, are now available at all Stanislaus County Libraries.

The colorful keyboards and interactive learning software provide a fun and safe learning experience. AWE computers are not connected to the Internet, yet they offer 70 software titles and more than 4,000 learning activities. These fun, interactive and engaging computers include content that spans all seven curricular areas: math, science and nature, social studies and geography, reading, art and music, writing and computer skills, and reference.

The Modesto Library has four AWE computers available in the Children's Room. Future plans include the addition of Spanish bilingual AWE computers. The cost of these premium Early Literacy Stations is approximately $3,000 each. Those who wish to contribute to the cost of expanding this valuable service are invited to make donations through the Friends of the Modesto Library.

CALLING ALL BOOK CLUBBERS:

Contact Laura Ferrell at (209) 558-7817 to register your book club for a future program.

Shining Star glows in The Little Shop

Kristine Ezovski was named a Shining Star by the Stanislaus Library Foundation at a recent award ceremony.

Kristine has been the general manager of The Little Shop (TLS) in the Modesto Library for the past several years.

As a volunteer herself, she supervises the volunteer clerks, selects and displays all the merchandise as well as handling all the paperwork for the shop. Profit from TLS is one income source for the Friends. With it FOML supports Modesto Library's mission with the "extras" that are not in the library's budget.

Our congratulations for the recognition and thanks to Kristine for keeping the shop running.

DIGITAL

These days, you can enjoy much of what the library offers without leaving home. Did you know our library offers digital solutions to help you learn a language, listen to a book and read some of your favorite magazines? Not to mention, reserve books and check your library account using your phone!

Here is a quick guide to some of the Library's newer digital offerings:

Learn a language with Mango

From Arabic to Italian to Norwegian to Yiddish, and yes, even English, Mango Languages makes learning a language fun. The web-based interactive program features a simple, step-by-step interface to help you learn practical conversation skills for more than 60 different languages. No downloads or technical expertise is necessary. Simply create a Mango account and you're on your way to parlez-vous Francais!

Browse a magazine

Zinio is an online magazine collection that the library subscribes to for the reading and browsing enjoyment of our customers. Currently the library offers 51 magazines—from Architectural Digest to Women's Health—that can be read on computers and mobile devices.

You can check out as many magazines as you like and keep them as long as you wish.

You never need to return checked out magazines, and they do not expire. Just create a Library Collection account on the website www.rbdigital.com/stanislusca/service/zinio/landing? and you'll be on your way!

Audiobooks

The Library offers Hoopla Digital, a new, refreshingly quick way to get audiobooks, comics, eBooks, movies, music, and television shows. All Hoopla content is available on demand. No holds necessary and there is no waiting.

Users can access their selections via online streaming. Audiobooks may be temporarily downloaded to a mobile device for listening without an internet connection.

You can check out up to six items a month.

Prefer to read? Try e-Books

The Stanislaus County Library offers access to thousands of eBooks through the 3M Cloud Library. Enjoy downloads immediately with mobile devices or tablets supporting the iOS or Android operating systems or transfer from a PC to a compatible device! You can enjoy eBooks at home or on the go. Browse, check out, read, and transfer eBooks to your eReader with the 3M Cloud Library PC Application and Mac Application.

And remember, keep the Library in your pocket with the mobile app! Search the catalog, reserve or renew library materials, check your account and more, all with the Stanislaus Library app. Go to the Stanislaus County Library App on your device's browser, or to your device's app store to download the app.

It's really just that easy. Find out more about these and all of the library's services. Go to www.stanisluslibrary.org/ and select e-Services today!

Oh, what a DÍA

Celebrating children and books

Children and books collided for a smash-up celebration on Saturday, April 2, at the Modesto Library. For the tenth anniversary of El día de los niños/ El día de los libros, Day of the Child/ Day of the Book at Modesto, close to 700 people came to view performers, make crafts, play games, and — most exciting of all — leave with a brand new book in the hand of every child who attended.

In addition to the 600-plus new children's books donated by the Friends of the Modesto Library [FOML], every child left with an activity book donated by Stanislaus READS! and a specially printed Día booklet. The booklets, printed by Dittos, made their way into the homes of our community's families with hints to encourage reading at home. Stanislaus County Library is partnering with Stanislaus READS! to address the low literacy rate in the county. Día is one effort toward this and FOML is delighted to be part of it.

— Anne Britton

Imagination Library

On March 21, Stanislaus READS! presented a progress report to the community. Reports were given on the implementation of exciting programs related to School Readiness, Attendance and Summer Learning. The goal is to double the number of students in participating pilot schools reading proficiently by the end of third grade by 2020.

One of the programs under the umbrella of School Readiness is Imagination Library, which sends free books, mailed monthly, directly to the homes of children from birth to age 5 who live in the zip code of the pilot schools. To date, 452 children have been enrolled at Burbank, Moon School in Waterford, Chrysler, Sylvan and Las Palmas in Patterson.

The Stanislaus Community Foundation has raised $60,000 in donations from involved community groups and individuals, enough to sponsor 850 children. Champions are active on these campuses raising awareness and signing up new members daily. Workshops are being planned for the parents of these children to share best practices in reading, discussing and sharing books. The Imagination Library is lucky to pair with the library on this endeavor. Thank you Olga Cardenas!

We look forward to adding to our growing list and seeing the difference it makes to the success of Stanislaus READS! and the youngest community of learners it serves.

— Cathie Peck, "Champion" for Burbank School

Stanislaus READS! Update

To date the Stanislaus County Library system has received more than 3,500 new children's books from Stanislaus READS! thanks to the Stanislaus Community Foundation and Stanislaus County Office of Education. About 2,000 books were distributed to children throughout the county at library Día events. Another 1,500, which youth outreach services librarian Olga Cardenas calls "marvelous tools" for parents who attend early literacy workshops and other events, will be sent home for use putting new skills into practice in our community's families.

If you haven't renewed, please do—we miss you

Friends, where are your membership renewals? Our post office box is empty. So is our PayPal account.

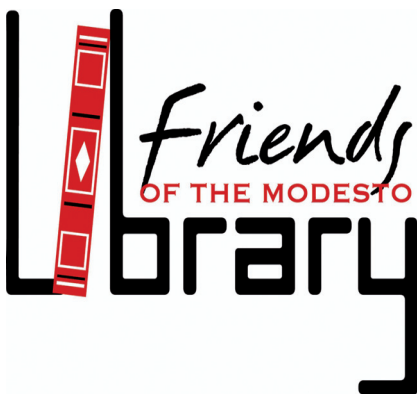

Fewer than half of our 2015 members have renewed this year. And, for unknown reasons, many library supporters who were members in 2014 and earlier never renewed.

On the bright side, we've had some people rejoin the organization this year who had lapsed for a few years. We're so glad you're back!

To those who have not yet renewed just consider this a 'Friend-ly' little nudge. Complete and mail the membership form on the right or go to www.modestolibraryfriends.org and click the Donate button at the bottom of the page.

Your membership dues and other donations make a big difference to the Modesto Library. Your dues help fund requests from the library staff in excess $10,000 annually.

Changes in Save Mart S.H.A.R.E.S.

Do you shop at Save Mart? Food Maxx? Lucky? If so, you need to know that starting April 1 Save Mart S.H.A.R.E.S. became Shares powered by eScrip.

Why should you care? Because every time you shop at these stores, the Friends can earn up to 3 percent of what you spend—at no cost to you.

What changed? You used to carry a S.H.A.R.E.S. card and show it to the cashier when you checked out. This guaranteed the Friends received a donation every time you shopped. Now you don't have to carry a card, but you do have to sign up online to participate.

What do you do now? (1) Go to www.savemart.com/ and click Sign Up/ Log In to sign up for Save Mart's new rewards program. (2) Go to <http://escrip.com/shares/> to sign up with eScrip. Choose Friends of the Modesto Library as your nonprofit organization and register the phone number you plan to use at checkout. For more complete instructions, go to our website or email Ellen at membership@modestolibraryfriends.org.

How much do the Friends make? Each enrolled shopper earns up to 3 percent for Friends of the Modesto Library on qualifying purchases when they check out with their registered phone or card number. For our organization that has meant about $1,200 per year for over five years.

A dozen Friends who received an email about the change in Save Mart's fundraising program in March have signed up with eScrip, and a few others had previously signed up. That's a start, but if we can get a large group of participants, we can earn a lot more than we have been. Raley's or O'Brien's also will donate a percentage of your purchases when you shop there.

QUICK STARTS

First sentences (or a bit more) from selections in the New Book area

“As a newly appointed library director, I was amazed at the number of times I had the exact same conversation with friends at backyard barbecues and cocktail parties. It went something like this.

FRIEND: Oh, how interesting, you’re now the director of a library? I thought you were a law professor. You’re not even a librarian.

ME: Yes, I am very excited about the challenge, and no, I am not trained as a librarian.

FRIEND: But wait. We don’t really need libraries as much now that we have Google, right?

ME: No, actually I think we need them more than ever

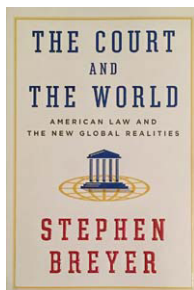

FRIEND: (cutting me off): Oh, now I’m getting it. You’re the digital guy, and you’re coming in to get rid of the library, right? Now this all makes sense.”

— “Biblio TECH, Why Libraries Matter More Than Ever in the Age of Google” — by John Palfrey

“Cicero set forth what would eventually become one of the best-known legal principles concerning the role of courts during wartime.”

— “The Court and The World”
— by Stephen Breyer

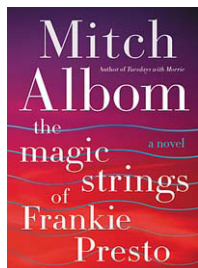

“Before I had any notion I would have a baby in my life, I frequently worked with clients whose dogs’ behavioral problems fell into the dog-baby or dog-toddler category.”

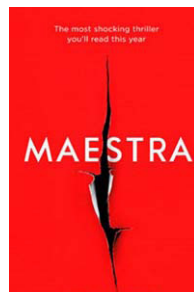

— “Please Don’t Bite the Baby (And Please Don’t Chase the Dog)”
— by Lisa J. Edwards

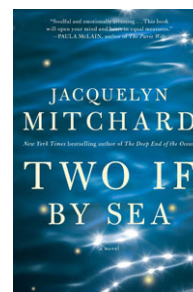

“I have come to claim my prize.” — “the magic strings of Frankie Presto”
— by Mitch Albom

“If you asked me how it began, I could truthfully say that the first time, it was an accident.”

— “Two If By Sea”
— by Jacquelyn Mitchard

What DAY is it anyway?

We all know that the month of May brings Mother’s Day and Memorial Day. And for many families with children, May brings the end of the school year.

But did you know that May 12 is National Limerick Day? That the third Friday in May is National Endangered Species Day? Or that the last Wednesday in May is National Senior Health & Fitness Day?

Specially designated days like these can serve as a great reason for a trip to the library — for yourself or for a child in your life to learn about something new.

But if getting to the physical library is not always easy, remember to explore the Stanislaus County Library website at <http://stanislauslibrary.org>

Here you will find eBooks, audiobooks, magazines, language learning software, and more, all available from the comfort of your home. See article on Page 4 for more details about these valuable resources.

To see what else is happening in May — or any other month — check out the full list of celebrations at www.nationaldaycalendar.com/
